The screenshot shows the website's navigation bar with links for HOME, ABOUT/PROMOTE, SPONSORS, MUSIC NEWS!, and CONTACT US. A search bar is located on the right. Below the navigation is the site's logo and tagline: "the official site for the hottest indie bands". The main content area features a section titled "Artists" with sub-categories: Country, Hip Hop, Indie Rock, Pop, and Rock. The featured article is for the band Framing Hanley, dated July 28th, 2009, at 8:38 PM. The article text reads: "Framing Hanley has blown up the Rock scene with their single 'Lollipop'! They have just released their newest single 'Hear Me Now' that is simply amazing. 'Lollipop' just went Digital Gold in June 2009 (over 500,000 copies sold). A question that they get a lot is how they came up with the name 'Framing Hanley'. The 'Hanley' in the band's name is a tribute to a friend, Ashley Hanley, who died tragically in a car accident in October 2006. 'Ashley was our biggest fan. She was a tireless promoter of our music and she was an anchor for us emotionally. She was a best friend to the band,' said Nixon. This was a way for the band to keep her memory alive. The Lauren Briant article text reads: "Lauren Briant is currently touring the U.S. with country artist Colt Ford! The former pop inspired artist is now back to her roots. Lauren is a native of Dallas, TX - a city girl with country".
